M&C SUPT. JOE CARROLL: "OUR NEXT OBJECTIVE IS THE WORLD SAFETY RECORD"

Acting Mechanical Division Superintendent Joe Carroll recently reviewed the impressive safety record of the M&C Division. "The real significance of this achievement can only be appreciated when you look at the type of work our men do and the potential for accidents which careless employees could create". To have functioned for over two and one half years during a period of major construction, extensive turnaround work on virtually every refinery unit, as well as the normal routine maintenance is a remarkable achievement. Until this time, the old record of 2.2 million manhours was held within Jersey by one of Jersey's Gulf Coast Humble refineries. To date, we have gone well beyond this. The industry record is readily achievable in the future with the same effort, care, and attention to safety that has been demonstrated over the past two and one half years.
